Just a great collection of duets - well written and provide a variety of styles to illicit rounded musicianship.
FYI: I first copied the cd into iTunes and it played terribly - a lot of background noise-pops and crackles like an old record (made me suspicious of the origin of these recordings). I played the cd separately on the same computer and same noise. I tried using software to reduce the noise without success. I played the cd on another computer and it played beautifully.
These are so good that I ordered the other 3 book/cd combos.

(Music Minus One). Here is the third volume in this series of pieces drawn from folk and classical sources for the advancing violin student. Transcribed and edited by Samuel Applebaum, one of America's foremost teachers. Contains printed music score and a compact disc featuring all the works in split-channel stereo, with the first violin on the right channel, the second violin on the left. By adjusting the balance, the soloist can remove either violin and play the other. Performed by Richard Henrickson, first violin Accompaniment: Andres Jennings, second violin
