INCORRECT "look inside" preview (but still love what I got)By Matt S.Reading other reviews, it seems that some people are receiving the product depicted as the cover image, and some people (who are mentioning that they're not seeing all the songs from the CD in the book, and that there's a bonus "beep beep" song) are getting a DIFFERENT product, that's depicted when you click on the "Look Inside!" (Notice the page length/width ratios are different when you click to look inside - instead of a tall book as shown with the cover, the inside is closer to square-shaped.)I got the product that is represented by the cover photo. It contains the following songs:Beethoven's WigCan You Can-Can?Drip, Drip, Drip (Pizzicato from "Sylvia")Franz Liszt the Famous

PianistHarmony (Schumann's Merry Farmer)Haydn's Great SurpriseHey Guitar Teacher (Bach)Just for EliseKings and Queens of England (Purcell's Trumpet Tune)Please Don't Play Your Violin at Night (Mozart)Tchaikovsky's Cannonball (1812 overture)The sing-along book is a must if you love the CDs, and I was really happy to get it so I could figure out all the brilliant lyrics. The piano transcription is great, I'd say most of the pieces are for a player of solid intermediate level. Too bad got a little wonky with this product page here - someone should fix this. Hey , you reading this??2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. If you're a kid or a kid at heart chances are you find the thought of Ludwig van Beethoven's silly white wig more amusing than the great composer's timeless compositions. --Renee Montagne, NPRHis songs are funny, but Perlmutter is not just a highbrow "Weird Al" Yankovic. The lyrics are hummable mnemonics, each imparting information about the work or its composer. --Nicole Arthur, The Washington PostClassical music was never supposed to be this much fun. Was it? --Lori Sears, The Baltimore Sun
