It's FUN and it works!By HAMsmokeThis book presents a cohesive bidding system that is not only easy to learn, but is very natural and modern at the same time. Bridge for the Unbalanced (or BFUN) does not refer to the players who adopt the system (although it is a favorite joke among members of my club), but to the exciting way that you bid with unbalanced hands.BFUNs core system is canap based.

As the system requires you to use a strong club, Precision players should have no problem at all converting over as they can keep most of their big club machinery along with their NT structure, possibly adjusting ranges somewhat. But do not get the idea that the system cannot be adopted by 2/1 players. I changed over from a KS style 2/1, already using a weak NT, and I couldn't be happier. I can quickly read partner's distribution, I keep the opponents off balance, and I get to open a lot more hands due to BFUN's light opening style. Did I mention that BFUN incorporates relay bidding? What I find good about this particular system is that you can learn the relay bids in Stages, rather than all at once. It is a system that you can grow into. Sure, there are plenty of things you have to give up, like weak two-bids, but the alternative meanings for these bids in BFUN come up so much more often. The book is well written with many examples. The people who will use this book, read it 20 times over, mark it up, and ask the author questions will be those who want to overhaul their current methods. Maybe you will have to buy it to defend yourself against it. This is not a farfetched possibility as the entire system is GCC compatible (of pressing concern to many ACBL members). Maybe you just want to see how some old ideas have turned into a new bidding system. I can tell you this if you put in the required work, along with your regular partner, it will be hard to beat this system. Play it for FUN, play it to WIN. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Complete relay bidding system. By R. Leeds. Good system book for those interested in relay bidding. Also uses canap structure. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. GREAT SYSTEM! By psykoace. It uses canap for unbalanced hands. 13-15 no trumps and a strong club. I have been playing BFUN for some time now with my regular partner. We just won 2 team events at the Las Vegas Regional playing this system. You can learn this system in stages (I would recommend it). We started using the canap system and used our own weak no trump structure. We eventually moved on to the BFUN weak no trump system. Now we are using our own strong club system, but adopting some BFUN relays. I have been playing bridge for thirty years and found this to be the best system I have played. When playing canap it is so easy to find 4-4 fits and it is much easier to evaluate unbalanced hands. I like a weak no trump but disliked having to rebid 1 no trump to show a strong hand. This is not a problem in BFUN. I would recommend this book to any regular partnership looking for a new system. Besides, it's fun to play!

BFUN is a new bridge bidding system designed to reduce the guesswork caused by flaws in standard bidding systems. The focus is on conveying immediately whether opener's hand is balanced or unbalanced. Much of the complexity of most standard systems is made necessary by failure to make this distinction. BFUN allows players to drop a multitude of conventions which exist only because of this fundamental flaw. BFUN introduces several new and revised conventions to take advantage of what the author argues is a more stable foundation for bidding.
